

Dr. Ing. h.c. F. Porsche AG

Environment and energy policy

As we move into the future, we refuse to leave Mother Nature behind. We are passionate about everything we do – and that includes protecting the environment.

We are aware of the impact our business activities have on the environment. That's why we strive to reduce emissions and limit our use of energy, water and other resources. Part of our identity stems from our efficient, high-quality and durable products, which aid in the conservation of resources. We monitor the environmental impact of our products at every stage of their life cycle and listen to advice from the relevant stakeholders to improve the environmental performance of our products.

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION

ENVIRONMENTAL GOALS

We're not afraid of the unknown and it is our innovative spirit that is helping us protect the environment.

We evaluate the environmental impact of our business activities and are able to measure them at each step. This enables us to create transparent and objective goals. We disclose our environment and energy key performance indicators yearly and provide information on the progress we have made in reaching our goals. We are clear about our commitment to the Paris Agreement and are unyielding in our efforts to meet the relevant environmental goals.

COMPLIANCE

We stand for power, performance, and fair play.

We comply with legal requirements and stand by our own commitments. Our environment and energy management system is in place to ensure that we recognize and adhere to the responsibilities that arise from our business activities. All employees and managers may openly address sensitive issues related to the environment and energy.

LEADERSHIP

We are a family that takes care of one another – and that includes the environment.

Our managers and employees understand the impact our business activities have on the environment. They are committed to protecting the environment and create the necessary conditions within their departments to implement the objectives set down in this policy. To achieve this, managers must also ensure that employees receive the necessary qualifications.